

David Burke

DIRECTOR

David's 30 years of industry experience equips him to oversee all facets of Jensen Bowers' technical expertise, information technology, quality assurance and professional development. His experience and knowledge of managing teams on many high profile projects is invaluable when balancing operational and business requirements.

David currently fulfills the role of Surveying Director of Jensen Bowers overseeing all facets of technical expertise, client relationship management and business development.

SPECIALISATION

- Conceptual design and development of large scale land subdivisions and Community Title Schemes
- Specialist knowledge and experience with all forms of surveying including volumetric surveys, infrastructure projects, high-rise construction, commercial and industrial development.

EXPERIENCE

RNA Redevelopment, Bowen Hills

The RNA showgrounds will become the centerpiece of a new mixed-use precinct in Brisbane linking commercial, retail, residential and open spaces all year round.

Our involvement has covered all facets of surveying including community titles schemes, road closures, volumetric surveys, tenure advice, master subdivision survey plans, geotechnical surveys and detail heritage facades.

Twin Waters Residential Community

Award winning master-planned community consisting of approx. 1000 residential allotments, medium density apartments, local shopping, golf course and central lake system. We carried out all facets of land titling, construction set outs, external infrastructure and hydrographic surveys.

Transport Network Reconstruction Program (QLD)

The TNRP project was the largest reconstruction effort in the state's history, rebuilding communities, fixing infrastructure and restoring regional economies after flooding and cyclone events in the summers of 2011 and 2012.

A high volume of timely, accurate and cost effective survey data was supplied in both remote and metropolitan areas for engineering design purposes.

South City Square, Woolloongabba

Located at 148 Logan Road, South City Square is a major mixed use development, consisting of approx. 1000 residential units, high-end retail, commercial and open spaces. Jensen Bowers has provided services in development advisory, titling and pre-sale documentation.

Qualifications

- Bachelor of Applied Science (Surveying), QUT

Professional affiliations

- Registered Land Surveyor, Queensland
- Consulting Surveyor, Queensland
- Member of Spatial Science Institute Australia
- Member of Urban Development Institute of Australia, Queensland
- Member of Valley Chamber of Commerce